

During Rainy Nights and Dusty Days

OtterBox is "Serving Our World"

"We looked at and reviewed many options but OtterBox was the best for our needs."

-Mike Thomforde, President & Founder of Serving Our World

Mike Thomforde, president and founder of Serving Our World, has spent many rainy nights and hot dusty days in developing countries around the world rebuilding broken futures for children that have been sexually exploited or sold and trafficked as slaves. Serving Our World is dedicated to administering relief to the millions suffering the effects of this epidemic.

Traveling across countries like Thailand, East Timor and Cambodia, Thomforde says, "All our projects are in remote locations," so to keep their high tech devices protected members of Serving Our World use OtterBox Defender Series™ cases for their 1st generation iPhones.

"We looked at and reviewed many options but OtterBox was the best for our needs," Thomforde said. Providing protection against dust, dirt, drops and dings, the Defender Series from OtterBox allows Thomforde to focus on his work and service, not his delicate technology. "I don't have to worry or think about equipment out on the field," he said.

Saving about $1,200 in product replacements and repairs, the OtterBox solution has contributed to Serving Our World and their efforts. The money saved from potential technology disasters has been used to build a more sustainable life in Asia's underprivileged areas by creating a foundation for education, medical care and other necessary facilities.

"Everyone was excited when I made this choice," Thomforde said about choosing OtterBox. Without technology limitations, Serving Our World can continue to make a difference in the lives of millions.
